Mrs. George B. Torrey Guest of Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay—Approaching Weddings Signal for Many Pretty Affairs—Society of the Week.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay's Garden Tea.

The pretty old-fashioned home of the Harts had Tuesday was the setting for one of the most delightfully planned and artistically arranged tea given this season. Mr. George B. Torrey, the renowned artist, was the guest of honor. Tuesday was a perfect day in Waikiki. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay and their charming mother, Mrs. Clara F. Hart, and Mr. Torrey, who in turn was presented to each guest. The grounds surrounding the Hart home are perfect with their tall evergreens and birds, low growing tropical shrubs and gorgeous blooming trees that grow out in the tropics. Tea tables and chairs were generously distributed over the grassy lawn and were thoroughly enjoyed by the friends there. Mr. and Mrs. Gay are among the most charming of the island people and any function, either great or small, is always a pleasure anticipated and a joy realized. Mr. Torrey has done a portrait of Mrs. Gay that is very beautiful indeed. Painted little Miss Carol Lee served a delicious punch and was assisted by Miss Laura Low, Miss Ruth Gately, Miss Catherine Jones, Miss Eleanor Hartley and Miss Margaret Jones.
